

CALL for Special Issue 2019:

Resilience of emerging market economies to global financial conditions

Editors

Alin Marius Andries, Faculty of Economics and Business Administration, The Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iasi

Marcel-Cristian Voia, Laboratoire d'Économie d'Orléans, Faculté de Droit d'Économie et de Gestion

Submissions are invited to a special issue of the EJES journal dedicated to "Resilience of emerging market economies to global financial conditions".

For this special issue, the papers sent before 30th October will be taken into consideration.

Submissions may address topics that include, but are not limited to:

- Economic governance, growth and macroeconomic stability;
- Policies and institutions promoting financial stability;
- Performance of banking sector and risk management after the financial crisis;
- Risk spillovers among real and financial markets between advanced and emerging economies
- The new EU financial supervisory architecture and banking union;
- Economic development in times of crisis, challenges and solutions for CEECs;
- Historical evidence and lessons from other financial crises.

EJES is indexed in

